HERSELF*Remedy for Prevention
Of Hostilities(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright))

Paris, Aug. 10.

The statement that an Italo-Abyssinian war could only be prevented by Abyssinia arming herself was stressed by the Abyssinian Minister in Paris, Teclé Hawariaté, in an interview published in the "Excelsior".

After declaring that the old saying, "If you want to keep the peace, prepare for war," was still valid, the Abyssinian spokesman pointed out that his country was compelled to buy arms abroad, whereas Italy was manufacturing them. It was therefore a glaring injustice if foreign Governments placed an embargo on arms exports to Abyssinia.

The Minister confirmed that numerous persons of all nationalities were volunteering for the Abyssinian army, but added that, lacking instructions from Addis Ababa, the Paris Legation had to refuse all such applications.

He went on to say that Belgian military instructors had been carrying on their work in Abyssinia for some time past, and that his Government would let it be known if it had any need for other military specialists.

In conclusion the Minister stated that Abyssinia was looking forward with confidence to the verdict of the Arbitration Commission and was placing her faith in the League of Nations, although she was determined to defend herself, if the necessity should arise, either with or without arms.

TONE MODERATES

Milan, Aug. 10.

A remarkable moderation in tone towards England characterises an article in the "Popolo d'Italia," endeavouring to justify the Italian policy towards Abyssinia, and clearly revealing a desire to substitute arguments for merely hostile criticism.

The Journal says that Italy urgently requires an outlet for her excess of population and once she is in a position to administer a colonial territory susceptible of development she will become a conservative State, not only for herself but also for her friends.

England's unfriendly attitude, according to the paper, would appear to be dictated by the erroneous supposition that Italy will obstruct the British interests in Africa, whereas the exact contrary is the case. Italy is only turning her attention to Abyssinia to avoid claiming for herself British or French mandated territories.

ANTI-FASCISTS

Bern, Aug. 9.

The anti-fascists arrested on Saturday last when they were about to launch at Tessin balloons carrying propaganda leaflets destined for Italy will be expelled from Switzerland in accordance with the decision of Bundesrat, that is, the Federal Council on Friday.

The arrested group consists of three Italians, one Frenchman, one Austrian named Alfredo Zanello. The Bundesrat based upon the decision of the confederation that it was a matter of action hostile to the present Italian regime, hence one likely to disturb the good relations between Switzerland and Italy.

MORE TOULON
ARRESTS*Police Injured In Clashes

Paris, Aug. 9

The Ministry of the Interior announced to-day that 68 arrests were made in Toulon last night among the striking arsenal workers, and their sympathisers, who fired on police and soldiers, barricaded the streets and behaved in a generally riotous and dangerous fashion, as a protest against the Government's decreed wage cuts.

One Italian was found carrying explosives. Two police inspectors were injured in the course of the evening during the execution of their duty.

Yesterday passed fairly quietly in Brest, Toulon and Le Havre, though shops in Toulon remained closed and hundreds of smashed windows testified to the violence of yesterday's rioting.

In addition to the Champlain, the liners Colombie and Lafayette sailed from Le Havre, the Colombie on a Baltic cruise and the Lafayette for Canada with 320 ex-servicemen of the French Army aboard. They are going to be entertained in the cities of "French" Canada.

NATION RALLIES

For the first time in the history of the Third Republic, the prefects of the whole of France assembled at Paris to hear M. Pierre Laval, the Prime Minister, address them on the mechanism of the new decree laws designed to protect the franc and secure for the nation complete economic recovery.

The only absentees were the prefects of Var and Finistère Departments who have been detained by the disturbed conditions in Toulon and Brest respectively.

DISORDERS IN FRANCE*Communists At The Bottom

Paris, Aug. 10.

The anti-Government demonstrations and riots in the French ports have been instigated and organised by Communist agitators: this has been proved early in the review now being held in the various ports concerned in order to establish whether the recent disorders took place according to a pre-arranged uniform plan of action, asserts the press here this morning.

"Le Matin" declares that immediately before the rioting began three Communist propaganda directors proceeded to Brest, where they gave the local Communist Syndicate final instructions. It is said that only 12 out of 85 demonstrators arrested during the Toulon disorders are older than 20 years, and that one of the 36 rioters still under arrest there has been identified as a grammar school teacher.

A statement issued by the labour leaders of the various parties declares that the workers cannot be blamed for the events, since the majority of these did not take part in the disorders. The fact that a semi-official news agency's account stresses that "not the workers themselves but disorderly elements caused the riots" appears to indicate that official quarters are inclined to share the labour leaders' opinion.

TOULON QUIET

Paris, Aug. 9.

No more riots took place at Toulon on Friday, after order had been restored in the early hours of the morning. Peace also prevails in the other naval ports of Brest, Cherbourg and Lorient where the strikers, as in Toulon returned to work.

The streets in Toulon present an indescribable scene of destruction reminiscent of nothing less than a bombardment. Ninety per cent of the shop windows are smashed in, while the paving stones and remnants of the barricades are strewn all over the roadway. Numerous shops bear evidence of having been plundered, among them that of an arms dealer where the rioters obtained rifles and repeating revolvers with which they opened fire on the Garde Mobile.

Detachments of the Garde Mobile are still patrolling the streets in all parts of the town, while companies of the Senegal Troops are posted in front of the Police Prefecture, the Gas and Electricity Works, creating an impression that martial law, through this city had not yet been withdrawn.

Nevertheless the authorities have drafted a total of one thousand troops including the Artillery, in the town.

CHAMPLAIN SAILS

Le Havre, Aug. 9.

The French liner "Champlain" was at last able to sail for New York yesterday, when she put out to sea at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The striking seamen agreed to resume work after the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique agreed to provide some compensation for the 3 per cent wage cut, substituted for the 10 per cent prescribed by the Government's economy decree.

Furthermore the company has promised to make a revision of the entire conditions of employment.

RECOVERY IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 9.

For the first time in the history of the Third Republic the French premier assembled at Quai d'Orsay on Friday afternoon all the prefects of the French departments to give instructions about the application and execution of numerous emergency laws issued in connection with the great retrenchment and denational campaign.

An unusual character in this event and the keen interest with which French people followed M. Laval's plans for the rehabilitation of the country's finances was made at Quai d'Orsay on Friday, being a scene of great animation, the crowds gathering to glimpse at the prefects' arrival and departure.

CABLE NEWS IN BRIEFOIL TANK TRAIN IN FLAMES

Vienna, Aug. 10.

A 32-wagon oil tank train came into violent collision with a passenger train yesterday afternoon at Obertemesch, in the Carpathians, on the Kronstadt-Predal line, according to despatches from Bucharest.

Six oil tanks, immediately burst into flames. The fire then spread with lightning rapidity to all the remaining wagons, so that not only two trains but also the railway station was soon enveloped in flames. The adjoining forest also took fire.

Railway workers engine drivers, guards, stokers and station officials fled to the woods. The fire brigades and soldiery from all the neighbouring districts were soon on the spot, fighting the fire.

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday Aug. 11th, 1935.

The Golden Text was: "He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." (Gal. 6:8).

The Lesson Sermon included the following passages from the Bible: "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law." (Gal. 5:22-23).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If the disciple is advancing spiritually, he is striving to enter in. He constantly turns away from material sense, and looks towards the imperishable things of Spirit. If honest, he will be in earnest from the start, and gain a little each day in the right direction, till at last he finishes his course with joy." (P. 21).

"THE TWELFTH"

London, Aug. 9.

A feature this year of the usual heavy passenger traffic to Scotland for "The Twelfth"—the opening of the grouse season—is the increase in the numbers travelling by night.

One train leaving London to-night will run in six parts, and carry four hundred passengers in first-class and seven hundred in the third-class sleeping berths, while another train will leave in three parts to accommodate the extra traffic.

Large numbers of travellers are taking their motor cars with them in vans coupled to the coaches.—

TOTE PLAN

To Control All
Bets

The Racecourse Betting Control Board, the statutory body responsible for the operation of the tote on racecourses, is making new plans to obtain full control of the betting market.

A scheme has been drawn up which, if put into operation, will abolish starting-price betting in its present form by making the office bookmakers agents of the tote.

The negotiations are still in the early stages, but already the leading bookmakers are up in arms against the attempt to turn them into "brokers for the tote."

A leading bookmaker said to the writer: "The board's new move is the thin end of the wedge. It will end in a move to do away with bookmakers altogether."

COMPENSATION

The scheme proposed by the Racecourse Betting Control Board is that bookmakers should pass on their starting price bets to the tote and receive compensation in the form of commission.

To do this they will have to persuade office bookmakers to accept the odds returned by the totalisator, instead of the prices offered in the "ring" at the time of the "off."

This would be the new basis of settlement of away-from-the-course bets.

The turnover of the tote has increased since credit betting on the tote was recently the subject of a legal action. However, most of the off-the-course betting still goes to the big bookmakers.

It is likely that private meetings will be arranged by the board to discuss the scheme with the leading bookmakers.

English Doctor
writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralizes excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

The Manchurian And Shanghai Incidents

(By a Correspondent)

Shanghai, Aug. 6.
Last week a Japanese visitor descended upon Shanghai, and to his compatriots, his coming caused as much flutter as an eagle in a dovecote. Not that this distinguished visitor, Mr. Takano Murobushi, was a fearsome or otherwise hateful person. He merely had an embarrassing way of placing his finger on the truth and being sufficiently straightforward—and let it be added, courageous—to express what he feels and thinks without mincing words, or quibbling with half-truths.

It must be said here, by way of preface, that the Japanese are a very sensitive people. Ambassador Sato in Washington, and many distinguished men of the Land of the Rising Sun, and on many an occasion assured us that it is so. Especially if we see the "truth" in a different light, and venture diffidently to express our opinion thereon—the Japanese feel very hurt. So one can guess how deeply the tender susceptibilities of the resident Japanese in Shanghai were wounded when Mr. Murobushi told them point-blank a few facts which seemed to him too plain to be controversial. He fired off his indictments with the rapidity of a machine-gun, and he made out was briefly, as follows:—firstly the "New Life" magazine case showed Japan up; secondly, the responsibility for the Mukden and Shanghai affairs lay entirely with Japan; thirdly Japan's attitude itself makes it impossible to improve Sino-Japanese relations; fourthly, the Japanese propaganda, which holds General Chiang Kai-shek up as a dictator (meaning thereby to discredit him and stir up the enmity of other political leaders in China) was all falsehood, because it is impossible to ignore Mr. Wang Ching-wel, who is the great national leader of civilian China to-day; fifthly, "Manchukuo" by all evidence is manifestly a puppet State; sixthly, that as far as foreign policy vis-a-vis China is concerned, the Tokyo War Office has virtually usurped the authority of the Japanese Foreign Office, and is acting unconstitutionally; seventhly,—and as a corollary to the above—a condition precedent to the revival of friendly relations between China and Japan, is the withdrawal of every Japanese military office on Chinese soil, and the reduction of the Japanese Kwangtung Army to a tenth of its present strength, lastly, that the Japanese agitation against the so-called "Blue Shirts" was baseless, and the very evidence against the society was manufactured and emanated from the Japanese militarists themselves to give them a pretext for following their aggressive policy.

NOTED CRITIC.
Mr. Takano Murobushi is a noted Japanese critic and newspaperman, a regular contributor to the "Yomiuri Shimbun", and writer on social subjects. Early in July he had left Japan for a tour of North China, travelling extensively, and as it turned out, also observing keenly what was going on around him. On arriving in Shanghai on July 24, via the Capital, he had been interviewed by a reporter from the leading local Japanese vernacular daily, the "Shanghai Mainichi", and the interview published on the 26th. Promptly after publication the paper dissociated itself from the sentiments expressed by Mr. Murobushi, but there had to be condign punishment on the paper to save the tender susceptibilities of the sensitive Japanese community. Result was an order from the Japanese Consulate suspending the publication for three whole days—expressions of regret and editorial grovelling having been taken into consideration.

As readers may be interested in what Mr. Murobushi had said to cause all the frenzied gnashing of teeth, a free translation is given below.

UNDIGNIFIED ACTION.
With regard to the recent "New Life" Weekly incident, Mr. Murobushi said: "Disparaging writings about Japan are frequently found in many foreign countries, and are not confined to China alone. Hence, in applying such extreme pressure as has been done in the case of the 'New Life' Weekly, Japan has not acted in a way worthy of a great dignified nation. To bully China over such trifling matters is by no means the right procedure to better Sino-Japanese relations. To expect China to cease all anti-Japanese activities after Japan has engineered the Mukden and Shanghai affairs is I am afraid, an utter impossibility."

Asked whether the Mukden and Shanghai incidents were not after all the logical consequences of China's anti-Japanese activities, Mr. Murobushi said: "But what were the causes of the anti-Japanese feeling existing before those incidents? The Chinese people were anti-Japanese, not because they were by nature prejudiced against the Japanese, for they were at first anti-British because of Britain's dexterous manipulation of her policy vis-a-vis their country. Since then, however, their animadversion had gradually been directed against Japanese imperialism in China instead. China did not intentionally create pretexts for arousing animosity against Japan, though admittedly there were elements which plainly desired a boycott of Japan for its own sake. But, had they been given no provocation to inflame Chinese sentiment, the hostile endeavours of these few individuals would never have won over the whole Chinese nation to their way of thinking."

GRAVE MISTAKE.
In answer to the next query, Mr. Murobushi declared that anyone who considers General Chiang Kai-shek to be the sole power in China to-day and Mr. Wang Ching-wel a mere figure-head, is making a very grave mistake. For in Mr. Wang and General Chiang China has her two great national leaders, respectively representing the civil and military authorities.

As for Japan, basing her political philosophy on a benevolent monarchy, she is now given an excellent opportunity for national development. But she should discard the 19th century imperialism of the West, and stand instead by her lofty fundamental ideals and work out her advancement along humanitarian lines. Turning in particular to the attitude of present-day Japan towards "Manchukuo" and China, Mr. Murobushi opined that "Militarists should always observe the noble soldierly rules of conduct. 'Manchukuo' professes to be an independent State—a paradise ruled by benevolence. Yet is she really so? If this independence is genuine, then why have such activities as the suppression of bandits not been taken up by the people of 'Manchukuo' themselves? For Japan to maintain peace and order on behalf of an independent foreign State, at the expense of Japanese lives, is something obviously intolerable! Then, again, Japan's oppression of the National Government and the Kuo-Min Tang of China, effected through extra-diplomatic channels by agents having no connections whatsoever with the Japanese diplomatic service, is fundamentally wrong. It seems to me that, if readjustment of Sino-Japanese relations is at all desired, every single Japanese military officer ought to be withdrawn from Chinese soil, and the Kwangtung Army reduced to ten per cent. of its present strength."

HONOURABLE SCRUPLES.
Taking the above remarks for his cue, the reporter next posed the following question: "Does not what you have just suggested postulate that the Japanese Foreign Office should select additional talent and employ more trained men to strengthen its diplomatic personnel, so that Japan's militarists may devote their attention exclusively to military affairs?" Mr. Murobushi replied that it was decidedly so. "But as I have just pointed out," he added, "if military men insist on taking matters into their own hands, they should act nobly and justly and, above all, retain a soldier's honourable scruples. Patent hypocrisy will only bring shame and injury to Japan. The concentration of political power in the hands of the War Office usurped political authority in present-day Japan. Take for instance the case of the Mukden and Shanghai incidents, which War Office spokesmen have denied as constituting acts of war, but described instead as mere incidents. On such a plea the consent of the Diet and the ratification of the Privy Council were declared unnecessary for military action, yet such military action was clearly in each case an open act of war. This policy being carried out entirely in accordance with the dictates of the War Office, is therefore justified in describing the action of the latter as a usurpation of power. I cannot help being a little afraid that narrow-minded persons with a penchant for labouring on trifles, and who are unable to take a long and enlightened view of things, will seriously injure the bright future of the Japanese people."

BLUE SHIRTS IN CHINA

Mr. Murobushi closed his remarks with an observation concerning the Blue Shirts organization in China, which Japan considers to be a menace, but which after careful personal investigation he does not believe to exist. Thereupon the reporters explained that the term "Blue Shirts" is commonly applied to a society for its object the revival of the Chinese Revolution—"an organization whose nature and activities have been disclosed by concrete evidence and sundry literature." To which Mr. Murobushi made this pithy rejoinder: "But are not this self-same concrete evidence and literature manufactured by the War Office and other persons?"—China United Press (By Mail).

FOLIES BERGERE

A night in Paris without the morning after.

That is how advance reports describe "Folies Bergeres", Darryl F. Zanuck's new 20th Century musical extravaganza starring Maurice Chevalier, at the King's Theatre to-day.

The lavish dance and musical presentations, featuring more than seventy of Hollywood's loveliest dancing girls, were staged by Dave Gould in the sensational manner in which the Paris musical institution, from which the film takes its name as well as its mood and settings, is world-renowned.

Maurice exerts the inexhaustible Chevalier charm in double measure in "Folies Bergeres", which offers him, in his first dual role not only as Charlier, the gay, Strawhatted, singing star of the "Folies Bergeres", but as a bemused French baron whom he impersonates in his act as well.

The fun begins when the Baron goes off to try to raise funds to cover a bank shortage and the actor is called into impersonate him in life as well as upon the stage.

Complications develop when the baron returns unexpectedly and learns that his wife has been flirting with Charlier. To test her, he turns the tables by impersonating Charlier and an impassioned love scene ensues, with the wife uncertain whether the man is her husband or merely Charlier's impersonation of him.

Ann Sothern and Merle Oberon have the leading feminine roles in "Folies Bergeres", which Roy

LADIES LOVE DANGER

Fear strikes most actresses who become known as Hollywood's best dressed women.

They recall the fate of various stars who passed into obscurity as actresses after they gained fame as "clothes horses".

Glamorous Mona Barrie, extolled by Royer, screen stylist, for her ability to wear clothes than any one he has seen in Hollywood in five years, is unafraid of becoming a mere mannequin.

"Katherine Cornell could wear the most stunning gown ever created or just a barrel and she would still hold her audiences through sheer acting power", Miss Barrie says. "While I can think of no woman to-day who has the right to compare herself with Miss Cornell, I still believe clothes will not take any audience's mind away from either good or bad acting."

"I love smart clothes and being smartly dressed."

In her latest Fox Film vehicle, "Ladies Love Danger", co-featured with Gilbert Roland, Miss Barrie wears sumptuous clothes. She portrays a baffling stranger who nonchalantly enters a bachelor's smart apartment, and settles there for the night, without explanations, just after a murder has been committed next door.

"Ladies Love Danger" will be seen next Wednesday at the King's Theatre.

Del. Ruth directed from a script by Bess Meredith and Hal Long, for release through United Artists.

THE ALHAMBRA

Living On Velvet

"Living on Velvet," a powerful drama with a most unusual romance is the current attraction at the Alhambra Theatre.

Kay Francis is exquisite in this picture of delicate love and it is a different Kay Francis from the one we have grown to admire.

Falling in love with a mad aviator, Kay is driven to desperation by his carelessness and irresponsibility and despite a terrific struggle to reform him she very nearly fails. However, an accident to him right matters so everything turns out happily in the end.

Supporting Kay Francis are George Brent and Warren William who both give a very realistic portrayal, especially the former in the role of the irresponsible fellow. Feminine hearts will flutter with envy when they see Kay Francis in a different frock every time she makes an appearance.

The picture is very entertaining in every way and the two shorts that precede it are very appropriate, especially "Behah Minevich" and "His Band" which is a really good bit of musical comedy.—O.M.O.

STRIKERS VACATE BREWERY

Shanghai, Aug. 7. The 180 strikers at the Union Brewery 1420 Gordon Road, who barricaded themselves on the top floor of a three-storey building inside the factory, vacated the premises peacefully at 5 p.m. yesterday, following an announcement by the management that the factory authorities would receive the strikers' representatives this afternoon. Mr. Frithjof Hoehnke, director, arrived from Japan yesterday. The following notice, in both English and Chinese, was placed and the reluctance of the office: "I returned from Japan to-day and have been grieved to hear that serious trouble has arisen in the brewery. I am carefully studying the matter, with a view to finding a satisfactory solution."

The attitude of the striker is attributed to apprehension regarding their position in view of the functioning of the company's new factory in Ichang Road with virtually a full complement of workers. The old operatives fear they may be dismissed shortly.

THE NEED FOR A GOOD HARVEST

Yushan, Kt. Aug. 1. This is another Red Letter Day in these parts, for to-day the railway from here to Shanghai has started regular service. For the time being the Hangchow-Yushan train will go straight on, although the Kiangsi railway is a heavier one. As soon as the Tientang river is built at Hangchow, the light rails on the Chekiang railway will be replaced by heavier ones, and then there will be fast through trains.

We are told that another line will come here from Nanking, passing the Chekiang and Anhwei border. The surveyors have been here twice. Still another line is supposed to join up from Fuchien.

The aerodrome is being enlarged greatly. It is said that it must be big enough for five or six hundred planes to land. I asked one of the officials overlooking the work why this was to be made such a large base. He said he really did not know, but those were instructions. The people are all bemoaning the loss of their fields, and many graves have to

THE QUEEN'S

Wednesday's Child

An appealing picture full of emotions and human interest, "Wednesday's Child," is now showing at the Queen's Theatre. The story is of Bobby Phillips who sees his mother "making love" to a strange man while his father is away. Sometime after Bobby hears his parents quarrel over an episode and overhears his mother saying "it is unfortunate that we have a child."

Bobby's house of happiness crashes above his head, as he attends the divorce proceedings. Then the court awards him to his mother for 8 months and 4 months to his father. His mother marries again and his resentment causes him to become exceedingly nervous.

He is forever wanting to go to his father and when he learns that his father was going to marry again he is terribly taken aback. Bobby is sent to a military school, put aside by both parents intent upon their own happiness with their own loves.

The picture is pathetic in several sequences and the acting of Frankie Thomas as Bobby is all that can be desired. Karan Morley and Edward Arnold turned in their good "bit" of support and in all the picture is delightful.

POLO ENTHUSIASTS ENTERTAINED

Shanghai, Aug. 11. Bill (Goodness) Palmer and Dick Harris entertained a number of keen polo devotees last night at the Harris house in Jernighan Road, when most of the keenest followers of the galloping game turned up to sample most scrumptious hot dogs and Corn on the Cob.

It is hardly necessary to mention the chief topic of conversation! It would be hard to think of a single player whose name did not crop up in the course of conversation whilst the speculation resulting from a discussion into the relative merits of the possible American and British teams for the Hoyt Cup was reminiscent of a call-over at the Beaufort Club.

Altogether it was a grand rollicking evening, and one only to be a player to feel at home at once.

Polo was discussed from Peiping to Manila, and I for one, hope that an American Army team from the P.I. mounted by American units from North China will pay us a visit and compete for the French Cup (presented by Messrs Hardvillers), as, whatever the players rating maybe ponies always do count a very great deal, and only those accustomed to the peculiarities of the China pony can hope to play him successfully.

Shanghai can field a very strong team. Not only that, it can find two other first class teams to try its selected team out, and I shall never subscribe to the idea, prevalent, apparently, amongst some players, that the standard of play in Shanghai is remarkably low.

be moved to other hills. It is the farmers that suffer, the merchants are anxious to get all they can to "help trade, which has been rather uncertain during past years."

We are hoping for a better harvest this year. The last year's suffering has been terrible. A great deal of public relief work has been done. Over 4,000 loads of grain have been divided among the poorest, and money has been given to the extent of $50,000. We hope the worst is now over. If only we can get a good harvest.

REVISED PRESS

LAW
More Stringent Control

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, Aug. 1.

The revised Press Law, against which Chinese newspaper publishers and newspapermen in different parts of the country are agitating, contains the following features:—

1. It renders the procedure of registration for a new paper stricter and more difficult;

2. It increases the power of supervision of the local authorities over the papers;

3. It makes the papers responsible for what appears in advertisements, personal notices, pictures and illustrations;

4. It gives local authorities the power to suspend a newspaper as soon as they discover anything therein which is contrary to law;

5. It forbids newspapers to publish the proceedings of court cases held in camera. No comment shall be allowed on a case until judgment is rendered; and

6. It forbids newspapers to publish reports about the private lives of people.

STRINGENT CONTROL

The desire of the National Government for a more stringent control of the press as evidenced by the new and revised Press Law, is in accord with a world-wide tendency towards the limitation of individual freedom in favour of collectivism and therefore it should not be too strongly criticized. The question, however, still remaining to be solved is whether the methods of control provided, in the new law are reasonable, and how the freedom of the press is to be safeguarded after such regulations have been put into force.

FULL PARTICULARS

Under the new law, in applying for registration, a newspaper or magazine must state the source of its financial support and give an outline of its organization, its estimated income and expenses together with its circulation and development plans. The purpose of this is to prevent papers and magazines with inadequate financial backing being established, but its efficacy is extremely doubtful. The unscrupulous publisher could easily misrepresent his financial position without detection. Further, it is next to impossible for a new newspaper or magazine to forecast its estimated circulation. Granting that this could be done, it would prove of not much use. As the Shanghai Newspapers' Union points out in its petition to the National Government, "the clever could still defeat the purposes of the law by making false representations while the honest would submit to its shackles and suffer."

In response to repeated petitions submitted by various newspaper unions for the revision of the Revised Press Law, the Central Political Council has referred the matter to one of its committees for examination.—China United Press (by mail).

BIG RANSOM WANTED

For Banker's Son

Shanghai, Aug. 7.

A nine-year-old boy, Sung Zeng-teng, was kidnapped yesterday, at 1.30 p.m., while playing in a passage-way behind his parents' house. A demand for $500,000 ransom has been made. Mr. Sung Zeng-teng, a prominent resident in the French Concession, and a native of Ningpo, living at No. 50, Passage 344, in Route Amiral Bayle, the father of the child, is the sub-director of the Farmers Bank of China, 368 Peking Road.

The boy left the house at 1.15 p.m. and half an hour later, Mrs. Sung, worried over the absence of her child, told a woman servant to bring him back. The servant had just started looking for the boy, when a youth of about 17 or 18 threw a letter over the garden fence, disappearing immediately afterwards down Route Amiral Bayle. The letter contained a demand for a ransom of $500,000. No news of the boy has been received since.

At the time of his disappearance the boy wore khaki shorts, a white shirt, and Chinese shoes. He can be recognized by a scar at the base of his nose.

CLYDE SHIP-REPAIR WORK

Harland and Wolff have had a busy time, eight vessels having been dealt with in the space of a week. Work was completed on the Walwera, and they dry-docked the Zealandic for damage repairs and continued insulation and general repairs on the Karamea. Other vessels dealt with included the Taranga, the Ceramic, the Tarana-ki, and the King Malcolm for sundry repairs, and the Lassell for engine repairs.

D. and W. Henderson and Co. had eight vessels for voyage repairs. Alexander Stephen and Sons completed work on the Trojan Star, and the Fairfield Company continued general hull repairs on the Autolycus.

READY FOR TROUBLE

Strikers Build Barricade

Shanghai, Aug. 6. On the eve of the resumption of negotiations with the management, the striking workers at the Union Brewery, 1420 Gordon Road, prepared themselves for trouble yesterday by barricading themselves on the top floor of a three-storey building on the south side of the compound, adjoining the main building. It was reported that they were armed with iron bars and other effective weapons and that they were ready for what might happen.

Outwardly, the brewery presented a peaceful picture and some of the 180 entrenched workers even ventured into the yard during the hot part of the day to stretch out in the shade and indulge in sleep apparently undisturbed by apprehensions of the future. The plant itself was idle except that the refrigerating system was kept operating and delivery of draught beer permitted. Food was brought to the strikers from outside at intervals.

The compound itself preserved the aspect it presented last Wednesday when riot squads were called in to control the situation. Some 40,000 empty beer bottles—potential ammunition—were still standing in orderly rows, covering most of the ground. Empty beer cases and empty casks, flanked the buildings on most sides.

CONFERENCE TO-DAY

A conference of the management will be held this morning, following the return of Mr. Frithjof Hoehnke, a director, from Japan, whence he was recalled by cable. It is expected that the management will meet the representatives of the strikers immediately afterwards to announce a definite policy. If it is decided to remove the strikers by force, determined resistance is expected.

Bottled beer, but no draught beer, is being delivered now from the company's new factory in Ichang Road. This plant is operating with virtually a full complement of workers and it is because the old operatives fear they will be dismissed shortly that they have adopted their present attitude. Mediation by the Bureau of Social Affairs of the Chinese City Government and the General Labour Union, last Thursday evening, effected only a truce pending the return of Mr. Hoehnke.

Owing to the unsettled conditions, some dealers increased the price of bottled beer by approximately five cents (large bottle) yesterday. The price charged by the brewery itself is unchanged.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE LEAGUE

Thanks to the good offices of Fox Films and United Artists, members of the Shirley Temple League and their friends will be given a treat on Sunday, August 18, at the King's Theatre, when a picture featuring "Shirley" and Pat O'Brien, and a series of interesting shorts, will be shown at 11.30 a.m. The charge for admission is only 30 cents and as the King's Theatre are making no charge for the use of the theatre and the services of the staff, quite a large sum ought to be collected for local charities, for which purpose the show is being staged.

PUBLIC ENEMY NO 1

Thrills of the work of the Government secret service agents, pitted against organized crime, to whom a misstep or recognition means death, form the background of "Public Enemy No. 1", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's amazing and gripping document of the war of the Department of Justice on gangland coming soon to the Queen's Theatre.

Based on actual cases and reports the new thriller, which shows in detail the method of the capture of a notorious public enemy, throws the spotlight on the daring of the nation's peace-like heroes whose work, for their own sake, must be unsung.

London, July 22. When Mr. Martin Benson gave the Maharaja of Rajpalia $50,000 for Windsor Lad almost exactly a year ago he did a good stroke of business.

After winning the Derby for the Maharaja, Windsor Lad was beaten into third place for the Eclipse Stakes, the race which he won yesterday at Sandown Park.

It was then that Mr. Benson bought him. He has since won six races with the colt, worth nearly £23,000 in stakes alone.

Now Windsor Lad retires to the stud at a fee of 400 guineas. With normal fortune he has a career before him of anything from 10 to 15 years.

"HOTSPUR'S" SHARE

It is doubtful now if his owner would accept £100,000 for him. In the congratulations which owner and trainer have experienced since last September Mr. Benson's chief regret is that the late Capt. I WILL FOLLOW Sermon At Union Church

The Rev. John Foster delivered the following sermon at the morning service at Union Church yesterday—

If you seek assurance in religion, remember that you are seeking not a sensation, only, but a Person. It makes all the difference.

When in childhood I heard of Polar explorers, I imagined them discovering the earth's axis sticking out of the ground with white bears grouped about it, like children round a maypole. I was shocked to hear that there is really nothing there. These men were journeying in search of an abstract thing, the satisfaction of getting there, the journey was everything.

In your search there is Some One there: You ought to think, not only of your own seeking, but, "What is He doing about it?"

Strangely enough this seems to enter late into our calculations, even when we are honestly disquieted about the state of our own souls. "What must we do to be saved?" Is for ever our attitude of mind. Without doubt it is something we do. He is Some One we see, and if there is discovery it will be ours. By a strange paradox we are never more self-conscious than when we think about our relationship to God. Twentieth century religion has become a very human thing.

Religion is so often the subject of a false antithesis: I heard of one place on the China coast where the water supply is impure and men's thirst is great. Newcomers are always warned of the danger and advised to drink something out of a bottle. The residents there have been choosing the same bottle for so long that they no longer realise the false antithesis: It need not be a choice between drunkenness and typhoid fever. Why not try boiling your drinking water?

RELIGIOUS HISTORY

In religious history there is a succession of such extremes. Before the Reformation the Church provided for man in such detail as to belittle God. The Reformers believed in God so passionately that they belittled man. The pendulum has swung with modern Humanism: religion is a human aspiration, uplifts human conduct, and serves human society. There are signs of it swinging back, almost as vigorously as before, in the revived Calvinism of Karl Barth: religion is something from above. Let us look at the great classical period of the conflict of these extremes:

We speak of the Reformation as the dawn of a new day. But a day of strong sunshine often ends in a thunder-shower. This new day saw the sky soon overcast. And the cloud hid from many the sunshine of God's love. I refer to the black doctrine of Predestination. It taught that some were to be saved, others damned, and both had been fore-ordained by the Almighty. Such a view of God seems appalling blasphemy. It makes Him no better than the wilful child who builds two castles with his bricks so that he may have the pleasure of kicking one to pieces.

However did such pagan ideas find a mouthpiece in the warm-hearted Martin Luther, or the reverent-minded John Calvin? How did they overshadow the religious life of our own land for two hundred years, until the winds of God cleared the sky again in the Evangelical Revival?

The fact is this extreme came as a strong reaction against the prevailing limitations of religious thought and practice:

WHO IS LOST?

God is sought by my striving, pleased with my penance, won by my merit. The Reformers flung it all aside as something self-centred and so irrelevant. They brought back the emphasis of St. Paul, St. Augustine, and the medieval mystics: "By grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves. It is the gift of God, not of works, lest any man should glory." You are nothing: God is all. And they swung round so suddenly to say it that they overstepped the mark. Perhaps that accounts for our own extreme reaction, back to the emphasis on man.

So far we have spoken about seeking God. I remember during the War an open-air preacher whose theme was "Have you found God?" One of my shipmates was a little drunk—perhaps it is well he was, because he taught me (and I hope the speaker) a lesson. He interrupted, "Excuse me, Guv'nor, who'd you say was lost?" Who is lost—God or you? And what is He doing about it?

Many of the parables of our Lord may be divided into two classes: A man is seeking goodly pearls, or digging for hidden treasure. In another a woman is sweeping the floor to find a coin. Those parables are different. In one we see ourselves forsaking all to search for the incomparable. In the other we see condescending Love leaving all to search for us. Again there is the sheepfold where the sheep hear His voice and go in and out and find pasture. It is the shepherd who goes into the mountains to seek that which has gone astray. It is the Shepherd who finds. And these we strain to join in the greatest of all the parables to form one hear-compelling harmony: "I perish here of hunger. I will arise. I will go. I will say. I am no longer worthy." There you have the self-conscious side of religion. "While he was yet a great way off the Father saw him. The Father was moved with compassion. The Father ran. The Father kissed him." There you have the God-consciousness of religion.

If you leave out the one you are doomed to the dark determinism which clouded the sky for our fathers. If you leave out the other you must make do with the pale humanism which is its modern substitute. Our Lord included both, as two aspects of the truth. We must not be content with half-truths.

QUESTION OF SEEKING

Now at last we are ready to resume this question of seeking. You seek to know and feel the nearness of the Father, and find many a hindrance. Don't be surprised. Our Lord told us that we should find nothing less than a door shut tight: "Ask." He said, then "Seek," then "Knock." That means a closed door. What are we to do about it?—Or what is He doing about it? To this parable too is there that other aspect of the truth which matched, we saw, each parable of seeking?

For this you must look beyond the Gospels. Perhaps the truth of God's so great humility could only later be revealed to men. "Knock and it shall be opened unto you" has its complement in words which in the latest book of the New Testament, are heard as coming from the mouth of God Himself: "Knock?" "Behold, I stand at the door and knock."

It is as if, when your search has brought you to the last obstacle, and you almost lose heart, there comes as answer to your despairing knock—no, not a slipping of the bolt, not a creaking of the hinges—no, a knock. And the knock says, "I want to get through too. The bolt is on your side."

It sounds like a promising situation for a comic film: Two people knocking at different sides of the same door, each blaming the other for the door being shut each calling to the other to slip back the bolt. It rounds one of that drunken question: "Who did you say was lost?"

The barrier is one. Not only you, but God and you, are seeking to get beyond it. But, we ask in confusion, if God is seeking, what can hinder the Almighty? Nothing nothing is big enough—but you. I believe our Lord told men to seek diligently, to get to that last door, then to knock, knowing that as they did so they would hear the answering knock and realise: "The door is a door of my own closing. The bolt is at my side. Not heaven nor earth nor God Himself, only my hand can open it and let Him in."

MODERN PSYCHOLOGY

You may not believe that this is true in your case. The facts may seem far otherwise. There is one thing however that a modern man must believe, and, believing, pause to re-examine his facts: "Modern Psychology has demonstrated our almost unlimited capacity for self-deception. Not conscious dishonesty: I mean something which begins in babyhood and is almost instinctive. You watch the two-year-old. He falls down rather hard. Pretend not to notice, and he will get up, rub it, and scramble on. But you hurry over with a 'Oh, diddums burtums...' and he'll howl his head off. It is not because he is hurt, but that he may enjoy the luxury of your sympathy. I know a man who went about with a long face because his wife was ill. He thought he was being sorry for her. Actually he (Continued on Page 7).

AROUND THE COURTS

UNREGISTERED TEMPLE

Two Chinese, Chan Ming, alias Sau Chung, and Leung Kwai Sang, were fined $250, or in default three months hard labour, and $100, or in default six weeks hard labour, respectively, when charged at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday with taking part in the management of an unregistered temple, at No. 114, Nam Chang Street, Shamshui, and with professing to tell fortunes. The sentences imposed were in respect of the first charge, the second charge being withdrawn from the second defendant, while the maximum fine of $250 or in default three months' hard labour, was imposed on the first accused on the latter charge.

For the prosecution, Inspector K.W. Andrew of the S.C.A., said that on information received, a female informer was sent to the temple. She enquired why she could not become a mother.

She was told by the first accused that her blood was being sucked by a dragon, and that if she paid a sum of $8.80 he would purchase a lizard, a snake, and a tortoise for the purpose of extracting the blood from the toes, which he would use so that she could become a mother. He also gave a charm, which he instructed her to put under the pillow when she retired at night. She was also told to bring a garment for both herself and her husband.

The next day she went to the temple and paid the first accused the money. He took the garments, and, with incense, began to worship, while the second defendant beat a small gong. At this stage the police entered the flat and arrested both men. The temple, concluded Inspector Andrew, had been in existence for the past three months.

NO BUS TICKET

James Ernest Scott and Charles Wong, the former an apprentice fitter and the latter a licensed driver both of the Far East Aviation Co., Kai Tak Aerodrome were each fined $25 by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday when convicted on a charge of travelling on bus No. 811 without paying their fares.

Inspector Chester Woods who prosecuting said that on Friday the defendants boarded the vehicle at Kai Tak at about 5.45 p.m. When asked for their fares by the conductor they gave him to understand that they had monthly tickets.

When an inspector boarded the bus later he asked them to produce their tickets. The former had a student's monthly ticket while the latter said that he had left his ticket at home. Asked for the number of the ticket the second defendant was unable to give it and was then asked by the Inspector to accompany him to the Police Station.

As the bus neared the Kowloon City Police Station the first defendant jumped off and the second asked him for the ticket which he said was his. The first defendant made a bid for freedom but was eventually caught. Both were subsequently taken to the Police station.

LOST HIS FARE

The first defendant denied that he told Inspector Chester-Woods that he (defendant) was hard up and broke and that he asked the second defendant to lend him the ticket. He continued that his uncle gave him 20 cents every day for his fare to the Kai Tak Aerodrome. Somehow or other he lost his fare on Friday and did not know until he boarded the bus. He asked the second defendant for the ticket when he was on the bus.

Mr. Wynne-Jones:—"Mr. Scott, you should be thoroughly ashamed of yourself."

First Defendant:—"I am, Your Worship."

In imposing the fines on the defendants his Worship said: "You are a pair of young scoundrels. Of all the miserable, sneaky pests that I have had to deal with you are the worst. I will let you go with a fine, but next time I will send you to gaol."

The ticket was ordered to be cancelled.

Juan Cabasaes, a Filipino, was fined $10 by Mr. Q. A. A. Maciadien at the Central Police Court on Saturday for failing to register with the police within 72 hours of his arrival in the Colony. Sub-Inspector Nolloth prosecuted.

Charged with the theft of a rat-basket containing clothes and money to the value of $27.80, the property of a Chinese widow named Lam Sai Yuk, and with returning from banishment before his term expired, a 32-year-old unemployed, Lam Yu Kam, was sentenced to a total of 12 months' hard labour by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Police Court on Saturday. Defendant admitted that he was a life banished from Singapore.

For a breach of the Deportation Ordinance, a 25-year-old banished, Yeung Cheung, who was expelled for a period of five years on June 7 this year, was sentenced to nine months' hard labour by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday.

Lee Yau, aged 17, was charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on Saturday with disorderly conduct in Wanchai.

He was bound over in a bond of $25 for one year and ordered to be sent to Canton.

Detective-Sergeant R. Fitches said that the defendant was seen on two occasions walking in Wanchai dressed in female clothing. This attracted a large crowd which it took some trouble to disperse.

YODELLING AT
VICTORIAPeasants And The Porters

London, July 13.
Strange behaviour by porters at Victoria Station, London, yesterday afternoon - passengers returning from abroad wondering if the heat was responsible.

Porters were raising their heads, opening their mouths wide, and crying to each other like banshees. From further along the platform came the high, full-throated voice of a girl, yodelling at the top of her lungs.

It was answered by a man; then a chorus took up the queer carrying call of the mountains.

Startled passengers went over to investigate.

EDELWEISS IN HATS

They found, in a circle of Swiss peasants, edelweiss tucked in soft round hats, enormous cowbells slung on yokes across their shoulders, a girl and man, greeting London with heads thrown back.

The girl is Fraulein Rioli, champion yodeller of Switzerland. She has come over with thirty-two folk-dancers to take part in the International Folk Dance Festival which opens to-morrow afternoon with a procession in Hyde Park.

The yodelling was too much for the porters. They answered back. The Swiss grinned and replied. For five minutes the station resounded to a comedy of cries, while the crowd laughed and clapped.

Another train arrived, discharging a picturesque load of leather-clad Bavarians and fierce-eyed Hungarian gipsies.

The porters looked at them and

Shanghai, Aug. 7.
Back from a research tour of the United States with a view to study methods and obtain ideas for the improvement of radio communication in China, Mr. Elliott L. Woo, a radio engineer of the Ministry of Communications, arrived in Shanghai yesterday in the s.s. President Jackson.

Mr. Woo is principally interested, he said, in aircraft radio equipment. He visited many of the leading radio and electric companies in America to find safe, reliable, and convenient methods of both sending and receiving messages while a plane is aloft.

He also studied manufacturing problems with a view to expanding the manufacture of radios here. He went on to say that he hoped to be able to establish lines for radios so that there would be no interference in messages between one instrument and another by a third instrument. This, he said, would be a great improvement over the present situation existing in radio communication in China.

Mr. Woo expressed the belief that by next spring there would be a trans-Pacific telephone cable service opened between here and San Francisco. He could not state what American Company would be behind the project. The communication, he said, would be direct.

He took up their joyful yodelling once more.

had to see the children to bed and do accounts with the cook, and he was sorry for himself. I know a woman who felt suddenly faint before Mrs. Blank's garden party. A doctor would have looked at her tongue found reasons for the faintness. A Psychologist might have looked in her wardrobe and found that she hadn't a suitable dress.

We are strange creatures. We are always covering up our nakedness even from our own eyes that we may preserve our self-respect. Well, God made us so, in His mercy. But He also made us able on occasion to make an effort and see ourselves as we are. The occasion is upon us now.

You have intellectual difficulties that keep you from taking your stand wholeheartedly on the side of Christ and His Church? You have emotional difficulties: your mind is willing to accept but you miss the inward glow? You have moral difficulties: you want to live the Christian life, but no strength comes to aid your weakness however much you ask? Whichever barrier it is, this seems, not like a door of your own closing, but the failure of God's response.

Look deeper: Does not one of these statements more truly fit your case?

There is a secret ambition: you want money, pleasure, an easy time. It is not the way the Master went, but you will not let it go. Like the rich young ruler, "one thing thou lackest," but for the sake of this one thing you will not let everything else go.

There is an unworthy habit. You tell yourself it is the merest detail in your life. Really it is your master. It keeps you from His service which is perfect freedom.

There is one human relationship-between you and your wife, your home, a former colleague, a lost friend-which it would cost you loss of face to put right. It has nothing to do with religion, you assure yourself. But it has, and your inmost heart knows it. "I need not go on with the miserable list."

EVERYTHING AND . . .

"Is there a thing beneath the sun, That strives with Thee my heart to share?"

Yes, there is. You have let it in, and your hand has bolted the door. "What must I do to be saved?" The answer is, everything; and nothing. You have nothing to do, because He knocks. He comes, O so condescending, to knock at your heart and mine, as if He were a stranger with no right there.

You have everything to do, you have all to surrender, because it is He who knocks. He comes, O so kindly, and no place will fit Him but a throne.

"Is there a thing beneath the sun, That strives with Thee my heart to share?"

Ah, fear it thence, and reign alone.

The Lord of every motion there. Then shall my heart from earth be free. When it hath found repose in Thee."

It is with regret that we have to record the death of Mr. William Murray Stratton which occurred at his residence at Tung Shan, Canton at 1.30 a.m. on Saturday.

ARTHUR CULLEN

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cullen of the Kowloon Dock will learn with deep regret the demise of their 11 year old boy, Arthur, which occurred at 3.20 p.m. on Saturday at the Kowloon Hospital from blood poisoning.

The unfortunate boy was admitted to hospital on August 1, with a compound, fractured arm received when he fell off from a swing. At one period he was progressing very favourably but towards the end of last week complications set in and despite all that medical aid could do for him the lad passed away.

The lad was a great favourite with his school mates in St. Joseph's College. He is survived by his parents, six brothers and two sisters to whom the deepest sympathy is extended in their sad bereavement.

HONG KONG ON THE SCREEN?The "Magic Carpet"
Series

The local Tourist Committee are considering the suggestion put forward that they should have a "Magic Carpet" travel picture made of Hong Kong. The "Magic Carpet" pictures have been a favourite feature with cinema goers the world over and a picture of this kind would undoubtedly help to put Hong Kong on the "Tourist Map" as it would be an ideal advertisement for the Colony.

During the past few years the Fox Film Company have produced several of these Travel Pictures, two of them being "The Lure of the Orient" and "Rickshaw Rhythm" the latter dealing with Shanghai. These films were screened at the King's Theatre some time ago, and a similar film of the Colony would be most interesting.

Assuming that a favourable decision is reached, Mr. Bonnie Powell, Far East editor of the Fox Movietone News who has his headquarters in Japan would be in charge of the local venture. It is said that it would take only two weeks to film.

NORTH POINT
FIRE

Matched Ablaze

Considerable excitement was caused in the North Point district shortly after 3.30 p.m. on Saturday when it was known that a fire had broken out.

The scene was in the old Ming Yuen Gardens now occupied by the Chun Yip Sound Motion Pictures. It appears that shortly after 9.30 p.m. the attention of the staff was drawn to a fire at the top of the gardens where several sets had been placed in readiness to be "shot." On the first intimation of the fire the staff made use of their own fire appliances to quell the outbreak but found that the hoses were inadequate so a call was put through to the Fire Station when three appliances were despatched to the scene.

On arrival the several hoses were brought into play and the conflagration was soon put out. There was a strong wind blowing at the time and it was at first feared that the fire would spread to the adjoining building. Damage to the extent of $400 was sustained and it is understood that the property was not insured.

LIGHT VESSEL
WITHDRAWN

Owing to a collision, the Yangtze Entrance Light-vessel, has been temporarily withdrawn from her station and replaced by a gas-lighted buoy, painted in black and red horizontal bands.

On the completion of repairs the Yangtze Entrance Light-vessel will be replaced on her station and the light-buoy withdrawn, without further notice.

Charts affected: Chinese Admiralty Charts Nos. 505 and 1011.

THE PARLIAMENTARY SYSTEM

In spite of the fact that Mr. Stanley Baldwin recently said that no man made it, it must be admitted that Parliament was shaped either on the pavement or within earshot of Westminster Hall, and wherever Englishmen have gone they have taken that institution with them, to rebuild it again, even in the far off antipodes. It was, therefore, appropriate to hold the festival of the Empire Parliamentary Association under that glorious roof. It was also fitting that an Australian Attorney-General should give an English Prime Minister in praise of constitutional liberties which had their origin there and which have since spread to the other side of the world. That it should have lived so long and spread so far is, in itself, a great tribute to the British Parliamentary system. The simple pride of the Englishman blended happily with the reverential eloquence of the Australian in praise of ordered liberty, and if a word were to be added from the wings it would be merely to applaud their enthusiasm. By way of caution, however, it may be added that history is apt to be dangerous when it takes to generalisations. Simon de Montfort would not recognise that system of government that is plausibly traced back to that great man and it is just possible that he would have treated democracy as he did the Albigenes. It would be well to bear in mind that the British form of democracy is a modern growth which has yet to be tried and tested and if we go back any distance in time we shall find Parliamentary government so guarded and circumscribed by fences, since pulled down as to be almost, if not quite, a different thing.

Since it is a fact that one good custom may corrupt the world, it would be wise if our Parliaments and Ministers were to remember that they must continue to justify themselves, not by any a priori virtue in the system, but by the practical results of prudent, careful and economic administration.

STILL HELD BY
BANDITSEfforts To Trace
Mr. Jones

Peiping, Aug. 10.
The conflicting claims whether Mr. Gareth Jones is in Manchukuo or in Chinese territory are explained by the disclosure that he is in a piece of disputed territory, where a Sino-Japanese incident occurred last January. The immediate incident was then settled, but the question of the demarcation of the boundary was left pending. This accounts for the reports from Chengteh that he is in Jehol.

It is learned now that five bands of emissaries are converging on the bandit gang, with the object of negotiating with the leader. Three are going from the Chahar authorities, and two Manchukuo bands are going on the instructions of the Japanese military authorities. It is expected that their efforts will show definite results soon.

CAPTURED MISSIONARIES

Peiping, Aug. 10.
Better news concerning Messrs. Hayman and Bosshardt than has been received for some time arrived from Hunan to-day. The bandits are now becoming more reasonable and are asking only a few thousand dollars for each man.

The negotiations are proceeding and there is a hope that both men will be released by the end of August.

BOOM IN MOTOR
INDUSTRYHuge Expansion In America

New York, Aug. 11.
A highly cheerful outlook confronts the American motor industry, judging by current statements of the bigger companies.

For instance, the Buick Corporation is spending $3,000,000 on rehabilitation and manufacturing facilities, while the vast General Motors undertakings have authorized an expansion and reconstruction programme involving an outlay of $10,000,000 largely on overseas plants.

The American output of automobiles in July this year was over 30 per cent. higher than in July last year.

ANOTHER RESIGNATION
IN CHINA

Nanking, Aug. 10.
Following the resignation of Mr. Wang Ching Wei, Foreign Minister, the Chairman of the Overseas Affairs Commission, Mr. Chen Shu Jen, petitioned the Executive Yuan last evening asking that he might be relieved of his office.

Mr. Chen Shu Jen does not give any definite reason, but deplors the lack of accomplishments during his tenure of office and requests the Government to appoint a more able person to succeed him.

Mr. Chen's petition was addressed to the Acting President of the Executive Yuan, Mr. H. H. Kung.

or to put the matter in a nutshell, by success in every field of policy. There is an age-old superstition that people govern themselves but this will not, indefinitely survive the failure to govern. In this hard and matter-of-fact world, everybody and everything must justify itself—or pass. As Mr. Baldwin said "this is the only country where Parliamentary government has grown and where it is the flesh of our flesh and bone of our bone. Whatever failures may have come to countries which have not our traditions, that is no proof that it has failed." It is when we consider the attempts to raise this Gothic edifice in India that we are tempted to sound a note of warning though whether it will survive an Indian monsoon and what it will crush under its fall if it does fall, are speculations in which no one must be tempted to indulge.

Far better would it be to confine the congratulations to those countries within the Empire, which, because they are inhabited largely by this Anglo-Saxon race, have the aptitude, the patience and the docility for this peculiar system of government and work it, after their fashion, because it is ours.

THIRTY NINE
MILE RACEThrilling Finish
At Cowes

London, Aug. 10.
The most brilliant Cowes week within memory closed in a blaze of sunshine with a thrilling finish in the thirty nine mile race for "J" Class yachts.

The wind which was slight at the start freshened later and as the boats went round the last lap Stephenson's Velsheta and Lambert's Yankee were abreast for some minutes. At first one boat and then another had the advantage, but finally the Velsheta took the lead and finished only twenty seconds ahead.

Sopwith's Endeavour was third. His Majesty was aboard the Britannia which made a spectacular run at the end of the race sailing right away from the Shamrock to finish fifth. Andreas' Candida finished fourth.

The corrected times were: Velsheta 4 hours, 22 minutes; Endeavour, 4-22-35; Candida, 4-23-33; Britannia, 4-27-11. Shamrock, 4-29-3.

Davis' Westward and Paul's Astra gave up.

EARLIER RACING

London, Aug. 9.
Astra having won the Jubilee Cup, interest to-day at Cowes was confined to the 12-metres class Jubilee Cup, which was won by Sir William Burton's Marina.

A similar cup for eight metres was won by Faskia, owned jointly by Messrs. Prestign and Steele.

Westward, owned by Mr. T. F. B. Davis, won the "J" Class race over a distance of forty-two miles, beating Endeavour by a mile.

The corrected times for this race were: Westward, 3 hours 51 minutes; Endeavour, 4 hours, 0 minutes; Shamrock, 4 hours, 4 minutes; Astra, 4 hours, 5 minutes; Velsheta, 4 hours, 7 minutes; Britannia, 4 hours, 26 minutes; Candida gave up before completing the course.

NEWS SUMMARY

The outstanding feature of Saturday's Lawn Bowls League programme was the 22 shots defeat of the Recreio at the hands of the champions, the Craigengower "A" team, in the First Division, the latter combination thus avenging their only defeat this season and firmly establishing themselves as this season's potential champions.

The failure of the batting of the American team and the excellent fielding of the Chinese provided the features in the game in which the Americans lost by 7 runs to 2 in the Baseball League on the 2nd Salle diamond on Saturday. Yesterday the Japanese defeated the Canadians.

MARVELLOUS PEAK
PARTY

(BY "ONLOOKER")

A dreary week, full of mouldy typhoons, absolutely wrecking the weather, and everybody full of gloom and very depression conscious. The people who have been away, like me, are wondering why they ever came back, and are rapidly planning their next trip as the only consolation in this sad life.

But there is always a silver lining, and we are so awfully grateful to the cheerful people who, nothing daunted by weather or any thing else, give lovely parties to cheer us up.

I went to one of the very best cocktail parties I have ever been lucky enough to attend on Friday night. It was given Mrs. Lanyon, that popular hostess who radiates good cheer wherever she goes. Directly one got in side the door one's mood seemed to change from deepest gloom to a suitable party spirit, and quantities of people all seemed to have found the same thing, for there was a veritable babble of cheerfulness about the house.

There was a real bar at one end of the big double room, behind which our Host and two friends did the honours. I seemed to see a sea of well-known faces (It is extraordinary how if you are away for even a few weeks people seem to change). One of the first people I caught sight of was Mrs. Alexander looking lovely, as usual, in the freshest looking pink organdi dress with periwinkle blue ribbons. Then I saw Mrs. Andrews, perched on the end of the bar, looking gloriously healthy as well as pretty in a dress which seemed to have some stripes about it. (But I have rather lost my gossip writer's eye for clothes alas). There was an attractive person I never caught the name of wearing blue and Miss Lock was much in evidence with her lovely tawny hair.

J. R. Bergne Coupland, commonly known as Jack or even "Cran," a most popular member of the younger set, was one of the three local yachtsmen who so narrowly escaped death recently when their yacht capsized and sank at sea off the Ninetyfins. Jack, with his two lusty companions, reached what appears to have been a little known desert island after three hours in the icy water and was eventually cast ashore by a giant wave.

TIME GENTLEMEN

Mrs. Danby, Mrs. James and Mrs. Ireland were all there and looking very nice, and of course no cocktail party could be complete without the McAvoy's who were just as marvelous as ever, and of course she held a regular court as usual.

The Nobles were there, and the Shannons, and lots and lots of men of the cheerfulness variety.

Local and General

Mr. L. W. B. Teeling, who is a candidate for the House of Commons, will speak on "Unemployment Conditions in England and Germany" at the Rotary Club Tiffin to-morrow.

Four cases of diphtheria and one of enteric fever were reported to the Health Authorities for the 24 hours ended on August 8.

Transfer of postal and taxation rights in the South Manchuria Railway zone to Manchukuo will be the first step in Japan's relinquishment of her extraterritorial rights in the new State. Officials of the Ministry of Communications are reported already drafting the text of a new postal agreement with Manchukuo which will become effective when the zone postal facilities are taken over by the Changchun administration.

Experiments in the manufacture of rayon from mulberry tree branches is reported to have been satisfactorily completed and steps are being taken by Mr. Lin Yun Kai, Chairman of the Kuangtung provincial government, to establish a big factory to produce rayon on a large scale to compete with foreign goods, says a Chinese report from Canton. A shipment of machinery has been ordered from America and the factory is expected to be open within the next few months.

Since the establishment of the Board of Directors of the Shanghai Chinese Shipping Co-operative Society, arrangements have been made for the opening of the following three offices, the Yangtze shipping joint business office, the coastal shipping joint business office and the inland river shipping control office. Numerous obstacles have prevented the scheme for the offices to materialize, causing Mr. Yu Ya Ching, the shipping magnate, to resign from the Board of Directors. The work of the co-operative society has thus been brought to a stop.

That Chinese commerce and industry locally is in urgent need of financial aids is indicated by the fact that more than 3,000 copies of loan application forms, recently sent to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce by the Commerce and Industrial Relief Loan Committee, have all been distributed among Chinese shops and factories. As a result, 1,500 more copies of these forms have been forwarded by the Committee to the Chamber for distribution. Loans will not be granted until the merits of each case have been thoroughly examined by the Committee.

The fortnightly whist drives of the Craigengower Cricket Club are proving more popular than ever and as a result no fewer than 20 tables were laid out on Saturday. The huge number of entrants necessitated a third prize in the respective sections. Mrs. Kerman came first in the ladies' section, while the second and third prizes were secured by Mrs. Summons and Mrs. Alderman, respectively. Mr. Modi won the first prize in the gentlemen's section, while the second and third prizes were awarded to Mr. Hoar and Mr. Haigh, respectively.

While cutting grass along the slope of the nullah in May Road, near the Peak Tram line, a 60 year old widow named Tong Yuet of No. 48, Staunton Street, toppled into the nullah. Her plight was not seen by the people there but several hours after passers by saw the body lying in the nullah and reported the matter to the police who had the body removed to the mortuary. The accident occurred at about 11 a.m. on Saturday.

While driving his car on Saturday Mr. W. S. Bunn of 51, Argyle Street knocked down a six year old Chinese girl named Wong Suet Fong at the junction of Nelson Street and Sai Yu Street at about 4.30 p.m. The girl was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital suffering from slight head injuries. She was detained at the Hospital although her condition was stated to be not serious. According to the report the girl ran across the road and despite the efforts made by the driver to avoid her she was struck.

When the fun was at its height there were cries of "Time, Gentlemen Time" and the Bar closed temporarily. We dispersed for a while but in a very short space of time the bar was a buffet, and we fell too on the most delectable cold viands and beer!

There were such a lot of talented people there, and relays of them seemed to play the piano while the rest of us sang (whether we knew how or not) anything from John Peel to "Smoke Gets into Your Eyes." There was somebody called "Hutch" who synopsized "old favourites" in the most divine way! I never knew how good some of those old Victorian songs were till I heard them brought up to date. Mrs. Alexander accompanies very well too, and she has got a lovely voice. The Stafford Smiths were very vocal too, and the Whyte-Smiths were in great form. It is such fun letting go with the voice. Everybody loves it. And I have made up my mind to beg, borrow, or steal a piano before I have another cocktail party. Any offers?

MORE DEPARTURES

Alas such a lot of people seem to be going away. The Jack McGregors are going to be terribly missed, fortunately he will come back to us in a few weeks, but she, complete with son and niece are going home. The Sangsters too have departed for long leave. What a colony it is for Goodbyes!

R.S.—I noticed at the "Grips" on Saturday night, that Miss Doreen Ma was doing "substoot" pianissimo—and very nice too. That young woman really knows her stuff, and judging from the applause and the reluctance of the dancers to leave off, her jazz solos were especially appreciated.

A Chinese male named Ho Yink, aged 50, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital on Saturday suffering from slight injuries contracted when he was knocked down by at Shum Chun, where he lives.

A daring burglar entered the bachelor premises of Mr. W. Crichton of Talkoo Dock Dock late, on Friday night and decamped with $19 in money.

It is understood that the thief entered by the front door. Mr. Crichton, however, was awakened as he was about to make his escape and jumping from bed he struck at him and knocked him on the floor. Neither the blow, nor the fall injured the man apparently, for he kicked Mr. Crichton and managed to make good his escape.

A meeting of the Council of the Hong Kong Rifle Association will be held in the Board Room of the "South China Morning Post" at 5.30 p.m. on Friday next.

Captain Williamson of the tug Henry Keswick has reported to the police that between 3 and 4 a.m. on Friday someone stole from the tug a brass lamp valued at $30 and some rope, valued at $5.

Mr. G. S. Hughes appearing for the Standard Oil Company stated that there are two other men who helped the accused in the theft.

ANOTHER ATTACK BY ITALIAN PRESS

Sir Frederick's Mission Under Suspicion

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 11, 4.30 a.m.)

Rome, August 10.
The change to a more than conciliatory tone towards England by the "Popolo d'Italia" in the latest article on the Abyssinian question has been somewhat offset by a new attack delivered in the semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" which expresses great concern on behalf of China in view of the visit of the British Government's Financial adviser, Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, to Japan.

The paper surmises that the object of the visit is the discussion of political plans on a large scale for co-operation between Britain and Japan, and goes on to assert that these can materialise only at the expense of China.

Italy must take strong exception to Britain measuring things by two standards and permitting Japan's expansion in China while blocking Italy's way to Abyssinia. China is also a member of the League of Nations, says the paper, which "with such incredible lies set in motion against Italy, which only wanted to protect her two colonies," maintained silence while one-third of China with 120,000,000 inhabitants were placed at the mercy of Japan.

Stressing significantly that Japan is no longer a member of the League of Nations, the paper asks whether it is desired that Italy also withdraw so that what is permitted to Japan will at last no longer be denied to Italy.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Rome, Aug. 10.
The mystification caused here several days ago when the three steamers Cello, Pellenzo and the Laguna, hitherto used exclusively for troop transportation, were suddenly ordered to alter their course for Tripoli, is now cleared up in an announcement that six hundred Spahis and a strong detachment of Askaris from the Italian Colony of Tripoli have embarked for Eritrea.

Great crowds gathered at the wharfs when the coloured troops went abroad, the natives being present in large numbers. Being used on active service in Tripoli, these coloured regiments are said to have earned a very credible reputation. These are the first detachments of native troops mobilised for the East African campaign.—Transocean Kuo Min.

BRITISH DELEGATION

London, Aug. 11.
The Minister for League of Nations Affairs, Mr. Anthony Eden, who been on holiday for a few days in Yorkshire, is expected back in London on Monday.

On Tuesday, accompanied by Sir Robert Vansittart, Permanent Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office, he leaves for Paris where they will represent Great Britain in the Three-Power conversations which will be held under the terms of the 1906 agreement and which will be preceded by more informal exchanges which will open on Friday.—British Wireless.

MISSION TO JAPAN

Addis Ababa, Aug. 9.
The special Abyssinian mission sailing for Japan, is headed by Dababiru, who will be the first Abyssinian Consul to Japan, started here yesterday for Tokyo.

The Abyssinian Government declares that the appointment of the Consul was prompted by diplomatic considerations, and had nothing to do with the delivery of war materials.—Transocean Kuo Min.

PURCHASES IN POLAND

Warsaw, Aug. 9.
A delegation of Abyssinian businessmen arrived at Lodz where according to a semi official statement they purchased a large quantity of ready made uniforms for the equipment of the Abyssinian army. Negotiations for buying other textile goods for the army are going on.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ETHIOPIAN WAR PLANS

Addis Ababa, Aug. 10.
The Emperor plans in the event of war to fling seven armies of over 600,000 persons into the attack. Some 250,000 men have been armed with rifles and ammunition by the Government, and the remainder are themselves responsible for their personal equipment.

The royal princes will ride into battle leading the armies of the north, south, east and west. The army of the centre will watch over the security of Abyssinia, holding itself ready to be shifted wherever it is most urgently needed. The seven armies are each composed of 30 regiments, one regiment numbering 3,000.

RIFLE STRENGTH

Estimates of Abyssinia's rifle strength range from 300,000 to 1,000,000. It is believed that there are about 200 cannon, the utility of which is speculative, some being 70 years old. Of machine-guns there are about 400, and an equal

M. Pierre Laval, Premier and Foreign Minister in France, administered a stern rebuke to departmental heads whom he summoned to a conference.

BANK RATE IN ITALY

To Be Raised One Per Cent.

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 11, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, August 11.
The bank rate will be raised from three and half to four and half per cent. as from Monday, August 12, according to a decree published in the Gazzetta Ufficiale. The last change occurred on March 25, 1935.

The present step is accounted for officially by the fact that last month the note circulation rose by 87 millions lira whereas in the same month last year the rise was only 457 millions, the marked difference being due, it is explained, to heavy industrial purchases.

Authoritative circles here disclaim the intention of countervailing any kind of inflationist policy whatever.—Transocean Kuo Min.

FLOOD DAMAGE IN JAPAN

Picturesque Kyoto Affected

Tokyo, Aug. 11.
It is estimated that twenty lives were lost and thirty seriously injured to-day in Central Japan as the result of heavy floods caused by twenty four hours of torrential rain.

The picturesque city of Kyoto is again the heaviest sufferer. The damage is estimated at several million yen.

Ten thousand houses are flooded at Kyoto and over sixty thousand at Osaka.—Reuter.

It is understood that an International Sugar Conference will be held next year. The venue probably will be London, but at present the arrangements are in the early stages and no details regarding what countries will be participating are yet available.—Reuter.

WOMEN BREAK BRITISH

White City, Aug. 11.
Two British records were broken in the women's athletic championships.

In a heat over 100 metres Miss Hiscock returned a time of 11 9/10 seconds, breaking her own record by 3/10 second, while in the 800 metres Miss Halstead returned a time of 2 minutes 5 3/5 seconds, which also was a new record.—Reuter.

NEW ADMIRAL FOR THE CHINA STATION

Vice-Admiral Charles Little Appointed

London, Aug. 11.

His Majesty the King has approved the appointment of Vice-Admiral Charles James Colebrooke Little, C.B., to be Commander-in-Chief of the China Station in succession to Admiral Sir Frederic Dreyer, the appointment to date from November 8 this year.

Vice-Admiral Little will leave England about December 6 and assume command about January next year.

Vice-Admiral William Warwick James (original of Sir John Mills' painting "Bubbles") will be Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Deputy Chief of Naval Staff in succession to Vice-Admiral Little.—Reuter.

BORN IN SHANGHAI

Since 1932 Vice-Admiral Little has been Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Deputy Chief of Naval Staff.

It is significant that the New Commander-in-Chief was born in Shanghai. He has just closed 53 years, and is thus four years younger than the present C-in-C. Vice-Admiral Little is a son of Mr. Louis Stromeyer Little.

F.R.C.S., B.A., F.R.A.S., and in 1908 married Rothes Beatrix, daughter of Col. Sir Charles Leslie, 7th Baronet.

Receiving his naval education on the Britannia at Dartmouth, he obtained five firsts in passing for rank of Lieut. He specialised in Submarine Service.

NAVAL CAREER

His commands include H.M.S. Fearless and Grand Fleet Submarine Flotilla, 1916-18 (C.B. Civil); in command of H.M.S. Cleopatra in the Baltic, 1919 (C.B. Military).

He was Director of Trade Division Naval Staff, 1920-22; Member of British Delegation to the Washington Naval Conference, 1921; Captain of the Fleet, Mediterranean Station, 1922-24; in command of H.M.S. Iron Duke, 1926-27; Director, Royal Naval Staff College, Greenwich, 1927-30; Rear-Admiral of Second Battle Squadron, 1930-31; Rear-Admiral of Submarines, 1931-32; and Vice-Admiral in 1933.

Vice-Admiral Little is an Officer of the Legion of Honour, Officer of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus, Bronze medal, Royal Humane Society.

BRITAIN'S ROAD TRAFFIC

Elaborate Census To Be Taken

London, August 10.
Beginning early on Monday morning, the Ministry of Transport has arranged for a most elaborate traffic census ever undertaken in Britain. It will cover every first class road and at between four and five thousand selected points everything passing lorries, omnibuses, private cars, cycles and pedestrians—each day next week will be counted by ten thousand enumerators working in relays.

The Ministry holds a traffic census every three years, but for reasons of economy one due last year was not held.

The purpose of the census is to find out now and where traffic has increased since 1931.

Average weight is assigned to each class of vehicle so that it is possible to estimate not only volume and density of traffic but "weight per traffic yard."

When the figures have been analysed the Ministry will be in a position to determine how far the road-building programmes are keeping pace with the increase of traffic.—British Wireless.

UNREST IN SIAM

Reports Denied In The Capital

Bangkok, Aug. 11.
Reports of disorder here are completely unfounded. The situation in Bangkok is very peaceful. Luang Pradit, Minister of the Interior, proceeded to London and was seen off by the Premier and War Minister.

The above refutation was made to reports circulating in Singapore that there was trouble in Siam where fifteen non-commissioned officers in Bangkok were awaiting trial for attempting to promote disaffection in the army.—Reuter.

EX-KING'S STATEMENT

London, Aug. 11.
The Secretary to the former Siamese monarch, Prajadhipok, informed Reuter that the ex-King had not been in touch with Siam directly or indirectly since he abdicated. He is not now concerned with affairs of state in Siam and the first news he received of the reported disaffection in the army was from the press reports in England.

So far as any question of his return is concerned, any move in that direction must come from Siam. It was incorrect as far as they knew to state that Luang Pradit might come to see the ex-King.—Reuter.

SCHOOLBOYS ON CRUISE

Wider Knowledge Experiment

London, August 10.
On Monday 838 boys from the primary and central schools in England, accompanied by 280 teachers, leave on a twelve-day cruise to the Baltic organised by the School Journeys Association.

This is the first cruise arranged for elementary schoolboys and is in the nature of an educational experiment with the object of putting the stimulus of interest and imagination behind book knowledge of geography, and of promoting understanding of foreign peoples.

The boys will spend three days in and around Oslo during which visit the party will broadcast songs from Oslo Station.

The majority of the boys are from London, but a number come from Northern areas.—British Wireless.

ITALIAN AIR DISASTER

Bodies Of Victims Taken To Cairo

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Alexandria, Aug. 9.
Charred beyond recognition, the bodies of the occupants of the "Savoia 81"—the plane carrying the Italian Minister of Public Works, Signor Raza, which crashed on Thursday en route to East Africa—were conveyed to Cairo, where after being embalmed they will be transported to Italy.

The cause of the accident is still unknown, but it is thought probably to be due to the petrol tank having exploded. The plane belongs to one of the most reliable type of Army machines, and had flown 20,000 kilometres without the slightest mishap.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DEATHS MOURNED

Milan, Aug. 9.
The tragic end of young Minister Raza caused particular consternation here.

The death of the African explorer Raimondo Franchetti who was a passenger in the ill-fated plane was also mourned. Franchetti made extensive journeys through Asia and East Africa particularly in Abyssinia where as "Messaggero" points out to-day he had close personal ties with a number of the Emperor of Abyssinia's tributary chiefs.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SHARP REPRIMAND BY FRENCH PREMIER

Government Heads Must Show Initiative

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 11, 4.30 a.m.)

Paris, August 10.
"The people are not altogether wrong when they say that the Prefects are more concerned with the Government that may come than with the Government now in office," was the sharp reprimand administered by M. Laval to the Prefects of France's ninety departments in the course of an address delivered on Friday, during a three-hour conference, to which he had specially summoned them to Paris.

The sharp tone of this speech and the unusual step taken by the Government in deciding on its publication yesterday, has caused a considerable sensation in Paris, particularly since the public had displayed the greatest interest in this unique conference.

M. Laval commenced by saying that formerly when he was Minister of the Interior he had the fullest confidence in the Prefects, but to-day his confidence must be earned. In all branches of the public administration there was a prevalence of red tape quite incompatible with the present period. The Prefects must realise that they are representatives of the State, as well as of the departments, and they would place the country in a tragic situation if they did not support the Central Government.

In conveying the Government's instructions to their subordinates they must be more than passive instruments of the Government—they must show initiative.

When, as so often happens, the Prefects received deputations representing one group or other, he would not tolerate in future that the demands of the groups, couched in insulting language, be passed on to the Government.

M. Laval concluded by saying that the Prefects could place perfect confidence in the Government, and go home without any anxiety as to its intentions. They would, however, have every cause for anxiety if they did not carry out their duty, since the whole situation was exceptional—the fate of the Government and the life of the country were at stake.

Political circles draw the inference from this speech that M. Laval is determined to push through the Government measures in the face of all opposition; the Socialist paper "Populaire" even raising the question as to whether the Cabinet would not attempt to retain in power even if defeated in the Chamber.—Transocean Kuo Min.

SEMI-RIGID AIRSHIP

Practical Tests In France

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press").

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 11, 7.30 p.m.)

Paris, August 11.
A new type of semi-rigid airship, said to be able to start and land vertically, was put to practical tests at the aerodrome at Toussus le Noble on Saturday.

The navigation car is equipped with a sixty horse-power motor which controls motion in a horizontal direction while a second twelve horse-power motor is situated beneath the gondola and propelled vertically.

The airship being only slightly heavier than air, this power is sufficient to enable the vessel to start and land perpendicularly.

The speed horizontally is claimed to be seventy kilometres per hour.

No communique about the results of the preliminary trials was issued.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NO SETTLEMENT EFFECTED

Luantung Incident Denials

Peking, Aug. 11.

Neither the Chinese nor the Japanese officials are aware of any such settlement of the Luantung Incident as reported by Nanking where information, said to be from an authoritative source, was issued to the effect that a settlement had been reached in the incident arising out of the murder of General Liu Tso Chow, the terms of which had not been divulged.

The Japanese military spokesman, questioned on the matter, stated that no demands on the Chinese had been made yet by the Japanese concerning the Luantung incident as the Japanese investigations into the affair are not yet completed.—Reuter.

DETAINED OFFICIAL

Peking, Aug. 10.
For the first time it has been officially admitted that Mr. Tao Shang Min, a member of the Political Council, was detained at the Japanese Legation, when a spokesman told foreign correspondents that Mr. Tao would probably be released soon.—Reuter.

CRAIGENGOWER 'A' AVENGE EARLIER DEFEAT BY RECREIO

Comfortable Lead In The Race For Premier Honours

KOWLOON DOCKS SURPRISED

The weather held out on Saturday despite the threat of inclement weather and a full programme of bowls was carried out.

The C.C.C. 'A' potential champions in the Senior League enhanced their chances by their victory over Recreio by 22 shots, thus avenging their defeat in the earlier round. They are now almost assured of the Championship, with the same number of points as Recreio, but with two games in hand. Thanks to B. W. Bradbury's four they were able to total 80 shots, Bradbury having a majority of 22 over L. A. Gutierrez.

One of the surprises of the day was provided by the 'Civil Servants' who defeated the Kowloon Docks by 11 shots, thanks once again to A. W. Grimmett and his men. The K. C. C. won their second game of the season at the expense of the Indians by 5 shots.

The Police after their good showing of a couple of weeks ago went down fighting to the Bowling Green by two shots. J. C. Brown's win of 6 shots over Shepherd's rink being responsible for their victory. In the Junior Division the leaders won as expected and Recreio defeated the C.C.C. juniors for the second time.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES

BY "JACK HIGH"

The lawn bowls put up yesterday at the C.S.C.C. green between the two teams skipped by A. M. Holland and A. Hyde Lay in the open rink semi-final competition was not of the standard that may be expected from semi-finalists. There was nothing outstanding about the whole game which was a big disappointment.

Or the Nook, J. W. M. Brown was better than P. T. Farrell while R. Duncan had slightly the better of R. G. Craig. E. C. Fincher played a steadier game than J. C. Brown. Fincher's draws were quite good at times and he was instrumental in saving his side on many occasions. Of the two skips Adam Holland was the more resourceful. The score of 28 shots to 15 in favour of the Bowling Green rink did not tell the true story of play. The K.C.C. four scored only 4 shots on the first 13 heads made.

LAUNCH PICNICS

Several Parties Postponed

Uncertain weather prevented several launch bathing picnics from taking place on Saturday; only a few who defied the elements carried out their programmes, among them being The Kowloon Anglican Church parties organised by the Young Men's Fellowship, and the Methodist Church respectively. The former boarded the Hong Kong-Yaumatei Ferry launch at 3.30 while the Methodist Church went on the Shum Lee to Big Wave Bay. A large number of members and friends attended both the parties and among those who went with the Methodist Church party were: Messrs. G. B. Burton, A. L. Burden, J. Lewis, W. Jones, D. A. W. W. Wayler, Mr. and Mrs. Maund, Mr. and Mrs. Dawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, and Mr. Lloyd-Jones.

MOONLIGHT BATHING

The St. Andrew's Club organised a moonlight picnic on Saturday instead of their usual afternoon picnic. It was well attended, and when the launch Hong On left the Police Pier, Kowloon at 8.29 p.m. for Junk Bay there were over twenty people on board. The party returned to Kowloon shortly before midnight.

Scottish League Opens

With the approach of the cooler weather, football, which had been relegated to the back ground during the summer, is once again coming into its own and the Scottish league was opened in sensational fashion on Saturday when Glasgow Rangers' last years champions, swept the new comers, to the league, Arbroath, off their feet with a 6-0 victory.

Motherwell, a disappointing team last year, opened promisingly at Kilmarnock with an odd goal win, but Queen's Park, the leading amateur club in Scotland, were defeated at home by Ayr.

Third Lanark, back again in the premier division, went down to St. Johnstone by 3 goals to 1, while the Celtic lost a battle royal at Aberdeen and Dundee shared the spoils with Hamilton.

Results, as cabled by Reuter:

Aberdeen	3	Celtic	1
Albion	1	Dunfermline	3
Clyde	1	Airdrie	1
Hamilton	2	Dundee	2
Hearts	2	Partick	0
Kilmarnock	2	Motherwell	3

The Bowling Green were conceded a 7 and a 4 on the 13th and 17th heads. They played better bowls and were never at any stage seriously challenged. They scored five 2s, one 3, and 4 singles in addition to the 7 and 4.

The teams were:

In contrast with the other semi-final the two Recreio rinks played boys of every high standard. The game was so closely fought out that an extra head had to be played to decide the issue.

LOCAL BASEBALL

Canadians Trowned

The Canadian baseball team was no match for the Japanese when they met in a baseball league encounter at Caroline Hill yesterday. The winners played baseball of a much higher standard than the losers who were very poor in fielding and with the bat. They lost by 21 runs to 4.

In the second inning of the game, Hachuma, scored a home run, and Murata scored a nice hit in the same inning, which took him to the third base.

The fielding of the Japanese left nothing to be desired. They seemed to be experimenting with their pitchers, Maruyama and Amasaki. Both of them did well, the former playing in the first four innings only conceded a run while the latter in the last inning gave away three.

The Canadians were poor, both in fielding and batting. Shedley at third base was the best in the side. He stopped many a hard drive and very successfully threw to first where many Japanese were put out. Crichley pitched in the first inning and gave away 3 runs after which he changed places with Altree, the first baseman.

The teams were as follows—
Canadians:—Altree (pitcher), Higgins (catcher), Critchley (1st base), Walker (2nd base), Shedley (3rd base), Muir (short stop), Stirling (left field), Goldstein (centre field), Oliver (right field).

Japanese:—Amasaki and Maruyama (pitcher, changed), Takeda (catcher), Murata (1st base), Ohkawa (2nd base), Kawamura (3rd base), Hachuma (short stop), Mikuni (left field), Kusano (centre field), Yamasaki (right field).

SATURDAY'S GAME

Tight fielding by the Chinese and the inability of the Americans to swat the ball accounted for the victory of the Chinese over the Americans in their baseball encounter on Saturday at the La Salle ground by 7 runs to 2.

It was due to Lawrence, the American hurler, that the Chinese were kept in check for one period with two men on bases; Lawrence retired the side without conceding a hit.

Thompson, the American catcher, played a great game and his throws to second base were regular "bee-line" with the result that the Chinese hesitated on many occasions to steal second.

The Americans opened the scoring when Howard brought Harris home on a two-bagger but the Chinese retaliated with three runs in the next innings, when M. Chang, who reached first on a hit, and W. Ching, who was given a walk, crossed the plate on J. Kai's hit. The latter came home through a fielder's error.

The Americans scored again the next time up when Thompson romped home on a two-base hit by Williams. The Chinese, however, increased their lead in this innings with two more runs through Chung and W. Ching.

Lawrence blanked the Chinese in the next two innings, but in the last loose fielding enabled the Chinese to score two more runs.

In the last four cantos the Americans were unable to score due to the tight fielding exhibited by the Chinese.

LAWN BOWLS

It was a close affair from beginning to end, there being never more than a two-shot lead at any time between the two rinks. The final score was 21 shots to 20 in favour of C. G. Silva's four.

J. E. Noronha found in L. J. Silva his equal on the day's play and was beaten on several occasions. C. E. Marques played his usual game and was instrumental in laying some good woods. His opponent, L. F. Xavier, was not very comfortable.

F. V. V. Ribeiro and F. X. M. da Silva sent down some beautiful woods and of the two Ribeiro was the steadier.

There was very little to choose between the two skips. Silva received good support from his No. 2 while Alves had all that was wanted from Ribeiro. Silva's drawing stood him in good stead.

Great excitement prevailed on the last head when Silva by his clever draws managed to obtain the one point to level the score. An additional head had to be played when Silva managed to notch a single to give his rink the right to enter the final.

Silva's rink scored six twos, one four, one three and two singles as against six singles, four twos and two threes, scored by Alves.

NEW ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Track And Field Events

The new Sze Kwong Track and Field Athletic Association was officially opened on Saturday at the St. Francis Hotel at a meeting presided over by General Tsai Ting Kai in the presence of a large and distinguished gathering.

Mr. O. W. Luke was in the chair while those present were: Messrs. Ng Sze Kwong, Tam Sik Poon, Li Sze Kan, Lau Ting Kong, Li Fui Sam, Tse F. Lee, Yau Man Kit, Yeung Ki Fong, Chiu Fan Chi, Leung Siu Nin, Leung Siu Man and others.

General Tsai delivered an interesting address in which he paid particular stress to the building up of the body. He accepted the post of patron with thanks.

Several others spoke also.

INFANT STAGE

Interviewed shortly after the inauguration ceremony, an official of the Association said that the body was yet in its infant stage, and they had yet to campaign for members, but, judging from the ready response of a large number of well-wishers and supporters, he said that they would probably be in full swing by the end of September.

As soon as they had gathered together the nucleus of their track and field teams, they would start building up a formidable combination, and by October and November they hoped to be able to open their season with a series of track and field meetings against local garrison teams.

INTERPORT CONTESTS

In December and January they contemplated sending a team to Canton, Macao, or even Shanghai.

He said that when the idea was first mooted, a very large majority of Chinese sportsmen belonging to no particular Club or organization had promised their support, and so the idea eventually became a reality when an organising committee was elected, and this inaugural meeting was the fruit of their labour.

DAVIS CUP PLAYERS

China's Team Returns

Shanghai, Aug. 7.

With more experience than when they left and far surer of their court game, Mr. Kho Sin Kie and Mr. Lewis D. Carson of the China Davis Cup team returned to Shanghai yesterday in the a.s. President Jackson from an extensive tour of the United States and of Mexico. Mr. Carson is the non-playing captain of the team, while Mr. Kho paired with Mr. Guy Cheng in the match against America that was held in Mexico City May 10 to 12.

China was defeated 5-0 in that match, but tennis experts say that the two men put up a better show than was expected from players facing their first year of the strenuous Davis Cup competition. It is hoped that next year China will again send a team into the tournament, but as yet no official announcement has been made.

After the match in Mexico City Mr. Kho, Mr. Cheng, and Mr. Carson, toured the United States, competing in various tournaments, and gained experience competing against the leading players of America. Mr. Cheng is still in Philadelphia, and plans to enter the U.S. National Singles Tournament at Forest Hills.

Mr. Kho, who is the singles champion of China and the ranking player of Java, plans to leave shortly for Batavia, his home. He said that he enjoyed his visit to America and Mexico, and hoped to return there again as well as to visit Europe, if possible, next year. He spoke highly of the ability of the Japanese players with whom he played exhibition matches both on his way to America, and upon his return.

CHANGE NEEDED IN CHINA

Currency Hampers Exports

Shanghai, Aug. 7.

Expressing the opinion that the present financial situation in China is hurting the exports of this country, Mr. Rene A. May, an American importer and exporter, arrived in Shanghai yesterday in the s.s. President Jackson. He was accompanied by his wife and by Mr. A. B. Henningsen, his China manager.

Mr. May considered that some change would have to be made in local currency, while Mr. Henningsen said that the native banks here would have to be improved. The latter also stated that business in China for importers and exporters was good for the first five months of the year, but that in June it started dropping off and is continuing to do so.

Mr. May further stated, in speaking of business conditions in the Orient, that Japan, due to her low currency, is able to export more goods to all parts of the world. Japan's process, he explained, was to buy vast quantities of raw materials, manufacture the finished product themselves, and then export.

Regarding the Philippines, he stated that business there is sluggish pending the economic conference that is to be held next February. He thought that the Philippines would probably give preference to the United States as regards a tariff, in view of the fact that America is the best customer of the Islands.

He spoke of improved business conditions in the United States, especially on the West Coast, which seems to have gone ahead of the rest of the country. Labour troubles are negligible on the Coast now, he said, and since last year, when shipping in San Francisco was tied up for three months by a strike, business has been steadily improving.

A great demand for rubber and tin in the United States at the present time, he went on, is leading to a great deal of importing from Singapore and the Netherlands East Indies.

REICHSMARK RETURN

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Berlin, August 9.

The Reichsbank statement dated August 7 issued on Friday shows that the last monthly settlement was successfully overcome, the most striking features being the substantial increase in gold stock by 10.6 to 104.6 millions reichsmarks.

Foreign currency reserves, declined by 0.6 to 5.3 millions making a net gain of note cover by 10.0 which accordingly now stand at 109.9 millions reichsmarks.

Gold stock increase came from foreign sources. Note circulation declined by 134.5 to 3740.3 millions reichsmarks. The amount of credit issued as measured by bills, cheques, investments and advances decreased by 205.5 to 4346.2 millions reichsmarks.
